大問4 英文要約 模範解答

Sports equipment libraries allow people to try activities without buying costly items. They can help families with limited budgets become more active and reduce waste from unused equipment. Some centers also offer lessons for beginners. However, equipment must be cleaned and repaired regularly, and popular items require fair reservation rules.

大問5 意見英作文 模範解答

I think high schools should start classes a little later. First, many teenagers do not get enough sleep, especially when they travel a long distance to school. A later start could help them feel more awake and concentrate during lessons. Second, students who have enough rest may be more willing to participate in classroom discussions and school activities. However, schools would need to adjust bus schedules and after-school programs carefully. These changes might be difficult at first, but I believe the benefits to students’ health and learning would make the effort worthwhile.
